Dear Parents,

Feedback from parents has suggested that some families would like to be able to access expert musical instrument tuition through school.

I have managed to find a reputable music teacher who offers small group tuition during school time at a reasonable rate and who would love to work with our schools.

Justine offers expert tuition in either keyboard or guitar for group lessons with a minimum of 4 children at a cost of £5.50 per child per lesson, payable direct to the teacher on a monthly basis. Children can borrow an instrument for the first couple of lessons as a 'taster' but are then encouraged to either lease or buy their own instrument, in order to practice at home.

There is no age limit on lessons and all groups would be conducted on a 'beginners' level to start with.

In order to secure lessons for our school we would need at least 4 children who want to learn the same instrument. If you think you'd like your child to participate in the lessons, please respond by getting in touch with admin@highamptonprimary.org.uk stating whether your child would prefer guitar, keyboard or either. If there is sufficient interest to proceed with booking the lessons, we will make contact with you with further information.

Best Wishes,
